October 2008 - Interview to Ivan Aparicio, second generation of the company.

On October the 2nd an interview to Ivan Aparicio was published in the Internet space Vilaweb. Mr. Aparicio is the second generation of the company and Commercial Director of this one.

The interview by Enric Borràs, journalist of the Technology and Sciences Channel of the electronic newspaper Vilaweb.cat, was due to the recognition of the Successful Local Case granted to Ceràmiques Aparicio for the creation and renovation of the web page during the last PIMESTIC meeting in Baix Empordà.

After a brief explanation about Ceràmiques Aparicio case and company they talked about the repercussion that the web page has had and which has been the advantages of it.

We are really pleased with the diffusion that we have had after these days and we will continue working to obtain new recognitions for our business.

We invite you to read the interview in the following link:
